

Saturday, 30 August 2014

Matter 5

Question 10

As permissions expire the land bank should be reduced.

Somerset should be prepared for the day when quarrying in the Eastern Mendips ceases (at the end of 2042) as there is a land bank of some 40 years. This should be reduced.

Question 11

The maximum land bank should be to the year 2042.

Question 12

If crushed rock is to continue in Somerset, it should be in areas with low population density.